

Transferring to Amherst College Additional Information

Amherst welcomes applications from talented students who have chosen to begin their higher education at two-year and other four-year institutions. The college looks, above all, to enroll exceptional students of strong and vibrant intellectual promise who have the demonstrated qualities of mind and character that will enable them to thrive in our dynamic academic and social environment and to take full advantage of the remarkable resources our community offers. A successful Amherst student is someone who will embrace the academic freedom provided by our open curriculum, engage with our talented and accomplished professors, and contribute significantly to a student population whose diversity of both background and perspective fosters a process of mutual education within and beyond the classroom curriculum.

This information sheet serves as an outline of how most competitive transfer applicants at Amherst may appear. Unlike an articulation agreement, eligibility criteria do not guarantee applicants for admission.

COVID-19 Considerations: Additional Flexibility in the Evaluation of Transfer Credit

Due to the severe disruptions related to COVID-19, Amherst has adopted more flexible guidelines regarding transferable credit that are not reflected in the information presented below.

For the most up-to-date modifications to transferable credit policy please visit:

<https://www.amherst.edu/admission/covid-19-considerations/transfer>

Eligibility

- Students are eligible for transfer admission to Amherst if they have at least 32 transferable semester hour credits (or equivalent) as a college student in a liberal arts curriculum. Please note the following exceptions:
  - Students who have already obtained a bachelor's degree or equivalent are not eligible to apply to Amherst College.
  - Students who are taking college coursework as part of any program of early graduation from secondary school or other accelerated completion of secondary school should apply as first-year applicants.
- For students applying from two-year institutions, four semesters of work (including courses in progress at the time of application) and full-time enrollment in a community college are strongly recommended.
- Amherst typically admits one out of every twenty students who apply for transfer. In previous years, competitive applicants have had at least an A- average in college coursework. Most have transferred from U.S. colleges and universities.
- While Amherst welcomes traditional- and non-traditional-aged applicants to apply, all applicants must be capable of enrolling as full-time students in the successive years needed to complete their degrees. Students are not required to live on-campus and, due to the structure of our residential community, we do not currently have the capacity to house families in on-campus housing. Our local area has off-campus rental options and free local public transportation.
- Students who have completed college coursework are also eligible to apply as first-year students to Amherst College if they are willing to forfeit all credit accrued in college and spend four years as full-time students at Amherst College. Students interested in this option should apply using the first-year application.

Transfer of Credit

- Credit is granted only for courses in the liberal arts. Please find a list of our current academic departments online: <https://www.amherst.edu/academiclife/departments>. Most course credits within departments available at Amherst will be eligible for transfer.
- Credit is not awarded for the following:
  - Most courses in business, criminal justice, engineering, speech and communication, computer application, journalism or other pre-professional training courses.
  - Math courses below the level of calculus.
  - Advanced Placement, International Baccalaureate or collegiate coursework completed during secondary school or in lieu of a traditional high school experience; however, some Amherst departments will allow students to forego introductory-level courses in areas where students have completed rigorous work.
  - Online courses.
- Amherst's open curriculum has no core or general education requirements beyond those courses required for a student's major. As a result, transfer students are not asked to take classes in specific disciplines or complete general education requirements prior to transferring as long as classes meet our liberal arts requirement.
- If admitted, a transfer of credit evaluation completed by our Registrar will be included with the letter of admission (includes credit hours from courses in progress at the time of application).
- Students who have more than 64 transferable semester hours (or the equivalent) must fulfill our two-year academic residency requirement by completing four full semesters at Amherst.

Admission and Financial Aid

For transfer applicants, close attention is paid to students':

- College and high school transcripts
- Academic instructor recommendations
- Quality of writing as demonstrated in essays
- Extra – and co-extracurricular involvements and talents

Transfer applicants are also welcomed to contact a member of the admissions staff to discuss opportunities at Amherst and the transfer process at admission@amherst.edu.

Amherst College is need-blind and guarantees to meet one hundred percent of all students' demonstrated financial need. When awarding financial aid, Amherst does not ask students to take out undergraduate student loans. For U.S. service members and veterans, we are a Yellow Ribbon school and have four endowed scholarship funds for those who qualify. Members of the U.S. Armed Forces are also strongly encouraged to apply for Amherst's need-based financial aid. For more information, please visit the financial aid website at www.amherst.edu/offices/financialaid or contact finaid@amherst.edu.

Transfer students are eligible for application fee waivers through Amherst's QuickPass fee waiver system: www.amherst.edu/admission/financial\_aid/quickpass.
