

~~~~~
Amherst BioNews Monthly Newsletter - December 2018 edition

Greetings biology folk,

It's time for another edition of our monthly newsletter with all that's happening and exciting in Amherst College Biology!

~~NEWS~~

- The Fall 18 Biochemistry Capstone Presentations are happening on the last day of classes, next Wednesday Dec 12th at noon in the Science Center Living Room.
- Check out the upcoming Science Cafe on December 13th in Downtown Amherst: Do you see what I see? Evolutionary stories from light-sensing animals
- Prof Jeong was recently awarded a major grant (~$460,000!) from the NSF: https://www.amherst.edu/news/news\_releases/2018/9-18/casting-for-iron
- There's an upcoming conference in Portland Oregon on Scientific Communication and improving your science presentation skills: <http://www.sciencetalk.org>

Best wishes for a great December and upcoming winter break and stay tuned for another edition next month,

-the Biology Department

Have something Department-related to share in the next newsletter? Please email Joe Trapani