Admission

Amherst College looks, above all, for men and women of intellectual promise who have demonstrated qualities of mind and character that will enable them to take full advantage of our curriculum. We seek qualified applicants from different races, classes and ethnic groups—students whose several perspectives might contribute significantly to a process of mutual education within and beyond the curriculum.

We aim to select from among the many qualified applicants those possessing the intellectual talent, mental discipline and imagination that will allow them most fully to benefit from the curriculum and contribute to the life of the college and society. Grades, standardized test scores, essays, recommendations, independent work, the quality of the secondary school program and achievements outside the classroom are among the factors used to evaluate this promise, but no one of these measures is considered determinative.

THE ADMISSION PROCESS

We take great care to give every application a thorough review. Each application is read by at least two admission deans before being presented to the Admission Committee for discussion. We pay closest attention to a student's:

- secondary school (or college) transcript;
- standardized tests: the SAT and two SAT subject exams or simply the ACT (with writing);
- teacher and counselor recommendations;
- quality of writing as demonstrated in essays, testing and recommendations;
- extra- and co-curricular involvements and talents.

We give the greatest weight to the academic transcript. The rigor of the courses taken, the quality of grades and the consistency with which a student has worked over four years give us the clearest indication of how well a student will do at Amherst. Standardized tests also play an important role in helping us evaluate a student in comparison to students taught in very different secondary schools. Recommendations, the quality of a student's writing, and extra- and co-curricular talents also help the Admission Committee draw fine distinctions among very talented applicants.

While no precise list of secondary school courses is required for entrance, we strongly recommend the following as minimal preparation for a liberal arts education at Amherst, with the understanding that content and availability will vary from school to school and that most successful applicants will have taken a course of study well beyond this minimum: English—four years; Mathematics—through pre-calculus; three or four years of one Foreign Language; two years of History and Social Science; at least three years of Natural Science, including one year of Laboratory Science.

FIRST-YEAR APPLICANTS

Applying. We require first-year applicants to submit the Common Application and the Amherst College Common Application Supplement by the appropriate application deadline. Applicants may mail in their applications or submit their applications electronically. If an applicant chooses to mail in an application, we ask that the applicant postmark a $60 processing fee or fee-waiver request by the chosen application deadline. At that date, applicants should also postmark the Common Application, the Amherst Common Application Supplement, and all supporting materials. These forms may be downloaded from the Office of Admission website (www.amherst.edu/admission).

Regular Decision. More than 90 percent of our applicants choose the Regular Decision option. A student must submit the application by January 1 and will receive our application decision by early April. If admitted, a student will need to reply to our offer by May 1.

Early Decision. About 10 percent of Amherst applicants choose our binding Early Decision (ED) program. This is a good option only for those who have decided early in the college search process that Amherst is their clear first choice. As an Early Decision applicant, a student agrees not to be an ED candidate at any other college. The student also agrees, if admitted, to withdraw Regular Decision applications from other colleges and to enroll at Amherst in the fall.

Early Decision applications are due at the Admission Office by November 15, and we mail our application decisions by December 15.

IB, AP and College Courses. If a student has taken International Baccalaureate, Advanced Placement or college courses during secondary school, we view this as significant evidence of academic accomplishment and preparation. In addition, some Amherst departments will allow a student to forego introductory-level courses in areas in which rigorous work has already been done. However, we do not accept such courses for credit or advanced standing.

Deferred Admission. An admitted first-year student may, with the permission of the Director of Admission, defer matriculation for a year without reapplying. The student should confirm his or her intent to enroll at Amherst by submitting the matriculation form and required deposit along with a written request for the deferral by May 1. Deferred students wishing to receive credit for academic work completed during the year between high school and their enrollment at Amherst will need to reapply for entrance to the College as transfers.

TRANSFER APPLICANTS

A student is eligible for transfer admission to Amherst if a minimum of 30 semester hours of credit transferable to Amherst College have been completed as a full-time student at a college or university. We do not accept applications from individuals who have already earned an undergraduate degree. Five College students are not encouraged to transfer to Amherst.

We ask transfer students to submit the Common Application Transfer Application and the Amherst Supplement to the Common Application Transfer Application with a $60 application processing fee. Students may access the online transfer application from the Office of Admission website. Fall transfer applicants must mail the application by March 1 and will receive our response late in May. If admitted, fall transfer students must reply to our offer in early June. Spring transfer applicants must ensure that the application arrives at the Admission Office no later than November 1. An application decision will be mailed in late December. If admitted, spring transfer students must respond to our offer promptly.

INTERNATIONAL APPLICANTS

We welcome applications from international students. Currently, some ten percent of our students are international—eight percent of them non-U.S. citizens and the rest a combination of U.S. dual citizens, U.S. permanent residents, and U.S. citizens living or raised abroad. Our Admission Committee is familiar with various education systems around the world.

Regardless of citizenship or geographic location, international students should follow the same first-year or transfer application process required of any other student. Please note that Amherst College is “need-blind” for all international applicants in addition to U.S. and Canadian citizens and permanent residents.

If English is not your first language, we ask that you take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or similar English-proficiency exam, such as the International English Language Testing System (IELTS). This requirement may be waived for students who score above 700 on the Critical Reading section of the SAT, or who have been taught primarily in English for the past four years. If you have been taught primarily in English for a period of less than four years, and are unsure of whether you need to submit an English-proficiency exam, please contact the Office of Admission.

VISITING STUDENTS

A limited number of places are available in the spring semester for full-time visiting students. A student is eligible for visitor status if the student is currently enrolled in college and has completed at least one year of full-time college work. Individuals enrolled as Visiting Students at Amherst as well as Twelve College Exchange Students at Amherst are not eligible for transfer to the college. The Amherst College Visiting Student Application should be submitted by students interested in obtaining visitor status. Applications are available online. It must arrive at the Admission Office no later than December 1. An application decision will then be mailed in late December. If admitted, visiting students must respond to our offer promptly.

Residential Life Fee (not required of off-campus residents)	114
Campus Center Program Fee	80
Student Health Insurance (optional)	$1,363
	$52,885

The first semester bill in the amount of $27,124 is made available to all students (except first-year students) and their designated "Friends and Family" electronically in early July and is due and payable on or before August 6, 2010. First-year students receive their first semester bill by mail at their home residence at approximately the same date. The mailing to first-year students is the only bill received by mail and all future bills are made available electronically. The second semester bill totaling $25,761 is available electronically in early December and is due and payable on or before January 7, 2011. All College scholarships, Tuition Management Systems Payment Plans, and any other cash payments received prior to mailing will appear as credits on the bill.

The fee for the support of various activities of the student body for 2010-11 is determined by the Student Allocations Committee. The $508 fee is turned over to the Student Allocations Committee for disbursement to more than 40 student organizations, clubs, special interest groups and activities. Six dollars of the fee helps to underwrite the Five College Performing Arts Program. This cooperative program entitles students at Amherst College (as well as students at Smith, Hampshire and Mount Holyoke Colleges and the University of Massachusetts) to receive a one-half price ticket discount for all Fine Arts Center sponsored programs. The fee also contributes to the support of the student newspapers, magazines, radio station, yearbook, tutorial and hospital service commitment and student government. In addition to the Student Activities Fee, there is a $114 Residential Life Fee and a $80 Campus Center Program Fee which are used to promote all campus programs.

The charge of $1,363 appears on the comprehensive bill for twelve months of Accident and Sickness Insurance for the period August 15, 2010, through August 15, 2011. Any clinical services provided on campus at the Amherst College Student Health Service are covered by the comprehensive fee for all Amherst College students. Further details concerning the Student Health Services and the Student Health Insurance Plan appear in the Amherst College Student Handbook.

Guarantee Deposit

Each new student, or former student reentering, is charged a $175 fee unless this deposit has previously been paid. Included in the $175 guarantee deposit is a $25 transcript fee, which provides all students the opportunity to receive transcripts upon request with no additional charge. This part of the fee is a non-refundable charge. The $150 balance of this deposit is refundable after a student graduates or otherwise leaves the college, less any unpaid charges on his/her account.

Miscellaneous charges such as fees for late registration, extra courses, library fines, lost or damaged property, etc., are payable currently when incurred.

Payment Plans

For those who wish the convenience of monthly payments, arrangements have been made for pre-payment plans, including insurance for continued payment in case of death or disability of the parent. For further details contact Tuition Management Systems at www.afford.com.

Tuition Changes

Despite every effort to maintain College fees at the lowest possible level, it has been necessary to increase the tuition fee at Amherst in the past. Therefore, students and their parents are advised that such increases may well be necessary in subsequent years. The College attempts to notify students of tuition changes as early as possible during the preceding academic year. Financial aid awards will be based on the schedule of fees in effect during the year of the award. Students who may require financial aid as the result of tuition changes are eligible to make application whenever necessary.

Financial Aid

IN a sense, every student at Amherst College is on scholarship. Beginning in September 2010, the comprehensive charge for tuition, room and board will be $50,820, and yet the education of each student costs the College approximately $80,000 per year. General endowment income, gifts and grants to the College supply the difference.

For those students who cannot afford the regular charge, financial aid is available from a variety of sources. Through the years, alumni and friends of the College have contributed or bequeathed capital funds with the income to be used for scholarship and loan assistance to worthy students. In addition, each year the alumni of the College through the Annual Fund contribute a substantial sum for financial aid purposes. Without this support, the College could not maintain its present financial aid program.

Additional financial aid is available to Amherst students from sources outside the College. A number of foundations and corporations grant funds which the College distributes on the basis of financial need. The College also participates in the Federal Work-Study, Pell Grant, Academic Competitiveness Grant, National SMART (Science and Mathematics Access to Retain Talent) Grant, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Direct Stafford Loan, Perkins Loan, and Direct Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students programs.

Amherst College has a broad financial aid program that includes scholarship grants and student employment. More than one-half of the students receive need-based financial aid. Students and their parents may also borrow educational loans.

FINANCIAL AID POLICY AND PROCEDURE

The College grants financial aid only in cases of demonstrated financial need. Students' financial needs are calculated by subtracting from estimated academic year expenses an amount that they and their families may reasonably be expected to supply. Academic year expenses include tuition, room, board and fees, and allowances for books, personal expenses, and transportation. The family contribution is computed in accordance with the need analysis procedures of The College Board and amended in individual cases by Amherst College policy. In awarding federal financial aid, the College determines eligibility according to the procedures specified in the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended. The College assumes that students will assist in financing their education through summer employment and part-time jobs during the college year.

Financial aid awards are usually a combination of scholarship grant and student employment opportunities. After allowances have been made for parental contributions and student contributions from savings and income (usually from summer employment), the first $1,800 of an applicant's demonstrated need will typically be met with a college-year employment opportunity. A student may expect to receive scholarship and grant aid to cover remaining financial need.

Outside scholarship awards and tuition benefits from parents' employers will be used first to reduce the college-year employment portion of a financial aid award. Any excess outside aid may reduce the Amherst scholarship amount, in accordance with the recipient's financial need.

Students have no loan included in their financial aid awards. Students with financial need may borrow long-term, low-interest, subsidized student loans to replace a shortfall in summer savings, to substitute for student employment in a financial aid award, or to purchase a personal computer. Unsubsidized student loans are available to students without financial need or to replace a portion of the expected family contribution.

WILLIAM M. PREST BEQUEST

The Faculty of Amherst College, at its meeting of February 29, 1972, passed by unanimous vote a resolution that:

... until such time as it votes to the contrary, the income and a portion of the principal of the Bequest of William M. Prest, Class of 1888, will be used to initiate new approaches to the problem of providing appropriate forms of financial assistance to Amherst College students.

First claim on the Prest funds goes to transfer students at Amherst, with special consideration to graduates of junior and community colleges.

STUDENT LOAN FUND

Through the generosity of friends of the College, the Student Loan Fund has been established from which small short-term loans may be made to students who require funds to meet personal emergencies or other needs for which financial aid funds may not be obtained. In accordance with the conditions set by the donors, use of the Student Loan Fund is limited to students who are otherwise receiving grant assistance from the College. The New England Society's Student Loaning Fund (for New England residents) and the Morris Morgestern Student Loan Fund provide special interest-free loans on the same short-term basis as other student loans.
