Amherst College
Physics Teaching Fellow

Amherst College welcomes applications for the position of Physics Teaching Fellow. The successful applicant will work with Amherst faculty teaching the laboratory sections of introductory physics courses. The Teaching Fellow will also work on revising and upgrading the laboratory experiments for those courses. This is a twelve-month, full-time position to begin July 1, 2007, though teaching duties do not begin until September 2007. The position is for one year with the possibility of renewal for a second year. A bachelor's degree in physics is required. Experience serving as a teaching assistant for undergraduate labs is highly desirable. Letters of application including a description of the applicant's interest in the position and relevant experience, a curriculum vitae, and two letters of recommendation should be sent to Professor Arthur Zajonc, Department of Physics, Amherst College, P.O. Box 5000, Amherst, MA 01002-5000. The search will be held open until the position is filled. We will begin review of applications on May 7, 2007.

Amherst College is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer and encourages women, persons of color, and persons with disabilities to apply. The administration, faculty, and student body are committed to attracting qualified candidates from groups presently underrepresented on our campus.
