Information Technology provides all computing resources and technology services you need to be a successful educator at Amherst College. Here are a few of the resources we provide, but most importantly our contact information is located below. Feel free to contact us whenever you have any questions. We are always happy to meet with you to discuss your specific needs.

How to Contact Us

We are here to support you in all your technology needs. The Help Desk is your main point of contact for all the services IT offers. We are located on the first floor of Seeley Mudd and also provide student support on A-Level at Frost Library. Here is how you can contact us:

- Webform: https://askit.amherst.edu
- Phone: x2526; 413-542-2526
- Email: AskIT@amherst.edu
- Classroom Hotline: x5069; 413-542-5069

Academic Support

Academic Technology Services offers expertise in technologies that enhance in-class activities, course projects, data collection and analysis, multimedia presentations and more. We offer individual consultation, provide instruction to classes or small groups, and help develop useful learning tools. Our Instructional Designer can help faculty explore how technology might be employed to create a more effective classroom experience. For more information, please visit https://www.amherst.edu/mm/385494.

Computers and Software for Faculty

By now you have most likely received the computer and software resources that the College provides; but if you need any assistance or need other computing resources, don’t hesitate to contact us at x2526. For more information about the computing resources we provide, please visit https://www.amherst.edu/mm/388884.

For information about all technology resources, visit our web site at: http://www.amherst.edu/offices/it