

Copeland Colloquium Seminar Series

“Permanent Catastrophe?”

2013-2014

Wednesday, Oct. 30, 2013

Carolyn Dean

Professor of History at Yale University

“Photographs of Catastrophe and the Unbearable Spectacle of Human Vulnerability”

Monday, Nov. 11, 2013

Joseph Masco

Associate Professor of Anthropology and Social Sciences, University of Chicago

“Catastrophe’s Apocalypse”

Monday, Dec. 9, 2013

David Bates

Professor in Dept. of Rhetoric and Director of the Berkeley Center for New Media, University of California Berkeley

“Catastrophe and Human Order: From Political Theology to Political Physiology”

Monday, Feb. 17, 2014

Lewis Gordon

Professor of Philosophy and Institute for African American Studies,
University of Connecticut

“On Ruin and Cultural Disaster ”

Monday, March 24, 2014

Elizabeth Sweet

Associate Professor of English, Yeshiva University

“ ‘M’ : The Monster’s Mark and Modernity ”

Monday, April 28, 2014

Alison McQueen

Assistant Professor of Political Science, Stanford University

“Salutary Fear: Hans Morgenthau and Nuclear Catastrophe”

All Events at 4:30pm

Clark House Room 100, Amherst College