Cardinal Seán Patrick O'Malley

Cardinal Seán Patrick O'Malley, O.F.M. Cap., was born June 29, 1944 in Lakewood, Ohio, and was raised in Western Pennsylvania, where he entered a Franciscan seminary. At 21, he was professed into the Order of Friars Minor Capuchin and at 26 he was ordained a Catholic priest. After earning a master's degree in religious education and a Ph.D. in Spanish and Portuguese literature from the Catholic University of America, he taught at Catholic University and founded Centro Católico Hispano (Hispanic Catholic Center) in Washington, DC, an organization which provided educational, medical and legal help to immigrants. Since his ordination to the episcopacy on August 2, 1984, he has served as the Bishop of the dioceses of St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands; Fall River, Massachusetts; and Palm Beach, Florida. Pope John Paul II appointed him Archbishop of Boston in July 2003. Pope Benedict XVI named him a Cardinal in 2006. Cardinal O'Malley was the principal celebrant at the Men's Conference Mass back in 2007. We are very pleased to have him back as a keynote speaker. Welcome back, Your Eminence!

Matthew Weber

Matthew Weber is a graduate of Harvard University with a Master's degree in Technology, Innovation, and Education. He hosts the popular TV segment "A Word with Weber" on CatholicTV's flagship newsmagazine show "Clearvoice." From a family of Catholic journalists, Matt is an award-winning multimedia producer at Harvard University, having interviewed thought leaders from Oprah Winfrey and David Brooks, to Gov. Jeb Bush and Wynton Marsalis. Prior to Harvard, he received an M.A. in Higher Education Administration from Boston College and a B.A. in American Studies and Film from Providence College. He is an International Radio and Television Society fellow, triathlete, and avid harmonica player. He is also the author of the new book, "Fearing the Stigmata", published by Loyola Press. This is Matt first appearance at the Men's Conference and we thank him for joining us!

Fr. Sean O'Mannion

Father Sean O'Mannion is a native of Queens, NY and spent much of his childhood in Guadalajara, Mexico. Father Seán grew up in the Baptist faith but wandered from Christ in his teens, having a spiritual experience in his early thirties that led him to seek baptism at the former St. Mary of the Assumption Parish in Northampton in 1998. He was ordained to the priesthood in 2008. He currently serves as the parochial vicar of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Parish in Northampton and ministers to the local Hispanic community. He is also active with the Guard of Honor of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, which has its local headquarters at the Monastery of the Visitation in Tyringham. We are happy to have him speak to us about Sacred Heart devotion.

Antonio J. Soave

Antonio J. Soave is the Chairman and CEO of Capistrano Global Advisory Services ("CGA"), an international foreign market expansion, joint venture and strategic alliance firm. CGA is based in Kansas City, and has a presence in Dubai and Brazil. Mr. Soave is also the Chairman of the International Business Council ("IBC"), a non-profit organization that promotes a mission of peace through commerce and mentors international business students at the University of Notre Dame, University of San Diego and Benedictine College. Mr. Soave is the founder of Catholic Sports Camps and Catholic Sports Missions, a Catholic not-for-profit entity that spreads the faith to young athletes. He is the founder and former Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of International Law & Practice (Detroit College of Law at Michigan State), as well as the founder of the Journal of International Business (Benedictine College). Mr. Soave has a BA in International Studies from The American University in Washington, D.C., a Juris Doctor from Michigan State University's School of Law, and a Masters of International Law ("LLM") from the University of San Diego. He is married to Ann, and has two children, Francesco and Maria Bernadette.
